

Webinar for Thesis/Dissertation Mentoring for Descriptive-Inferential Studies

December 2-3, 2021
via ZOOM Teleconferencing

From research conceptualization to journal publication, the role of the thesis/dissertation mentor spells the success or failure of the mentees' thesis and dissertation completion. Thesis mentors, together with their mentees, mold and define the quality, integrity, and research validity of the academic work by incorporating their academic expertise in research and the academia, exhibiting technological competence in navigating the technologies of research, and manifesting disciplinary proficiency in hurdling the publication process. Turning the passive research advising to a more dynamic thesis/dissertation mentoring, how does one become an effective thesis/dissertation mentor of descriptive-inferential studies?

Guiding every thesis/dissertation mentor and mentee through skills development, the Asian Society of Teachers for Research Inc. invites you to the Webinar on Thesis/Dissertation Mentoring for Descriptive-Inferential Studies on December 2-3, 2021 (9:00 am to 5:00 pm Philippine Standard Time) via ZOOM Teleconferencing.
