

Training-Workshop on Designing Future-Proof and Future Ready Research For High-Impact Journal Publications

October 7-9, 2024

Goldberry Lite Hotel, Iloilo City, Philippines

Shifting the focus from traditional, linear approaches to research towards more dynamic and adaptive methods that embrace complexity, foresight, and long-term impact, future-proofing and future-readying research involves meticulous planning, innovative methodologies, and an unwavering focus on addressing the grand challenges that will shape the world of tomorrow. Researchers must be able to cultivate a visionary perspective, capable of identifying emerging trends, potential disruptions, and the evolving needs of society. With the advancing pace of technological change, shifting research priorities, and evolving publication standards, how do researchers develop and publish research outputs that address the complexities, vulnerabilities and uncertainties of the future?

Equipping researchers with skills in a rapidly changing research landscape, the Asian Society of Teachers for Research Inc. invites you to the Training Workshop Designing Future-Proof and Future Ready Research for High-Impact Journal Publications on October 7-9, 2024 at the Goldberry Lite Hotel, Iloilo City, Philippines.

TRAINING-WORKSHOP OBJECTIVES:

- (1) To leverage emerging technologies, Generative AI and digital tools in the research process;
- (2) To provide guidance on crafting research outputs that meet the evolving criteria for high-impact journal publications; and
- (3) To develop skills in anticipating future trends and challenges in research, enabling participants to design studies that are future-proof and future-ready with the aid of Generative AI.
